LADIES' DELIGHT!
RELIEF COME AT LAST.
J. WISNER'S Washing Machine, Patented Sept. 26th, 1854, is a large tub with zinc fitted on the bottom, also on the under side of the runner. It stands on a stout, and weighs about 25 lbs; is simple and handy and has been thoroughly examined and tried by thousands at the West within the past year, who pronounce it to be the best labor saver ever offered to the public. It has been tested sufficiently long to prove that when ever it has been used properly, it will tell a better story for itself than I can communicate. Give it a trial, and you will be entirely satisfied of its superiority.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS
R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of PATENTS
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST.,
BOSTON.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries.—Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that mine is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practicioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON," Com issioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,"
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."
From Sept. 17th, 1857, to June 17th, 1858, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made, on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioners [illegible]
R. H. EDDY.

SPRING.

BY THOMAS HOOD.

Ham—The air bites shrewdly—it is very cold.
Hor—It is a nipping and eager air.—HAMLET.

Come, gentle Spring, ethereal mildness come!
O Lovelorn Wight of rhyme as well as reason,
How could'st thou trust poor human nature home?
There's no such season.

The Spring! I think and shudder at her name!
For why, I had her best, her better blighter!
And suffer from her blows as if they came
From Spring the Fighter.

Her praises, then, let hardy poets sing,
And be her timeful laureates and upholders;
Who do not feel as if they had a spring
Poured down their shoulders!

Let others eulogize her floral shows;
From me they cannot win a single plaudit.
I know her blooms are in full blow—and so's
The Influenza.

Her cowslips, stocks and lillies of the vale,
Her honey blossoms that you hear the bees at,
Her pansies, daffodils, and pe rorose pale,
Are things I sneeze at!

Fair is the vernal quarter of the year!
And fair its early buddings and its blowings—
But just suppose consumption's seeds appear
With other sowings!

For me, I find, when eastern winds are high,
A frigid, not a genial inspiration;
Nor can I like from Chesterfield Chubb, defy
An inflammation.

Smitten by breezes from the land of plague,
To me all vernal luxuries are fables,
O! where's the Spring to a rheumatic leg,
Si Ii as a tables!

I linin agony—I wheeze and cough;
And quake with hoarse flue as an agitator;
Nor dream before July, of hearing off
My Respirator.

What wonder if in May itself I lack
A pair for hackatory verse to hang on?
Spring, mild and gentle [illegible] yes, a spring healed jack
To those he spits upon.

In short, whatever panegyrics lie
In full-toned odes too many to be cited,
The tenderness of spring is all my eye,
And that is blighted!

THE STOLEN BANK NOTES.

Continued.

It was just a week after this that thunder fell upon our office by the discovery that sixteen hundred pounds in Bank of England notes, sent in by different parties, late on the previous day, had not been entered with a memorandum-book containing the numbers and dates. Great, it may be imagined, was the consternation among us all, and a rigorous investigation, which however led to nothing, was immediately instituted. Capel, who showed extraordinary zeal in the matter, went, accompanied by one of the chief clerks, to the parties from whom the notes had been received, for fresh lists, in order that payment might be stopped. On their return it was given out that no accurate, reliable list could be obtained. This, it was afterward found, was a ruse adopted in order to induce the thief or thieves to more readily attempt getting the notes into circulation.

This occurred in the beginning of September, and about the middle of October Travers suddenly informed me that he was to be married on the following Monday; this was Tuesday. The lease of a house at Hammersmith had, he said, been agreed for, the furniture ordered, and everything was to be completed and paid for by the end of the present week. "And the money—the extra two hundred and odd pounds required—how has that been obtained?" "Of my uncle, Woolridge, a marriage-gift, though he won't, I believe, be present at the wedding," returned the bridegroom-elect, with a joyous chuckle. I was quite sure from his manner, as well as from my knowledge of his uncle's penurious character, that this was a deception. Constance Hervey's scruples, I had always thought, now that it was certain his next quarter's salary would be one hundred and fifty pounds, were somewhat overstrained and unreasonable—still, I was vexed that he had stooped to deceive her by such a subterfuge. It was, however, no especial affair of mine, and I reluctantly accepted his invitation to dine at the Herveys with him on the last day of his bachelorhood, that is on the following Sunday. Capel was invited, but he refused. I also declined, and resolutely, to attend the wedding. That would, I felt, be un peu trop fort just then.

A very pleasant party assembled at Mr. Hervey's on the afternoon of that terrible Sunday, and we were cheerfully chatting over the dessert, when the servant girl announced that four gentlemen were at the door who said they must see Mr. Travers instantly.

"Must see me!" exclaimed Travers. "Very peremptory, upon my [illegible] leave, six hours, [illegible] these very de[illegible] [illegible] Bid them [illegible] opened, and in walked the strangers without invitation. One of them, a square, thick-set, bullet-headed man, it instantly struck me I had been in communication with—Oh! to be sure!—he was the officer who conducted the investigation in the matter of the stolen notes. What on earth could he want there—or with Travers?

"You paid, Mr. Travers," said he bluntly, "something over four hundred pounds to these two gentlemen yesterday?"

"Yes, certainly I did; no doubt about it."

"Will you tell us, then, if you please, where you obtained the notes in which you made those payments?"

"Obtained them—where I obtained them?" said Travers, who did not, I think, immediately recognize the officer. "To be sure. Four of them—four fifties—I have had by me for some time;—and—and——"

"The two one-hundred pound notes—how about them?" quietly suggested the man, seeing Travers hesitate.

Travers, more confused than alarmed, perhaps, but white as the paper on which I am writing, glanced hurriedly around—we had all impulsively risen to our feet—till his eye rested upon Constance Hervey's eagerly attentive countenance. "I received them," he stammered, repeating I was sure, a falsehood, "from my uncle, Mr. Woolridge, of Tottenham."

"Then, of course, you will have no objection to accompany us to your uncle, Mr. Woolridge, of Tottenham?"

"Certainly not; but not now. To-morrow—you see I am engaged now."

"I am sorry to say, Mr. Travers, that you must go with us. Those two notes were among the stolen from the office to which you belong."

There was a half-stifled scream—a broken sob, and but for me Constance Hervey would have fallen senseless on the floor. Travers was in the merciless grasp of the officers, who needlessly hurried him off, spite of his frantic entreaties for a brief delay.—The confusion and terror of such a scene may be imagined, not described. Although at first somewhat staggered, five minutes had not passed before I felt thoroughly satisfied that Travers was the victim of some diabolical plot; and I pretty well guessed of whose concoction. An untruth he had no doubt been guilty of, through fear of displeasing his betrothed—but guilty of stealing money—of plundering the office!—bah!—the bare supposition was an absurdity.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE TO CONGRESS,

EASTERN DISTRICT,

THOMAS DAVIS,

OF NORTH PROVIDENCE.

Family Gatherings of the Sons of Rhode Island.

We are glad to learn that the proposition for a reunion of Rhode Islanders abroad, in this city, during the coming summer, has been received with the greatest favor by all concerned, and that the sons of Newport in different parts of the country are corresponding in regard to the arrangements. Our brethren of the Mercury also have done good service in calling attention to the subject.

The day fixed on by a meeting of the Rhode Islanders in New York, some weeks ago, is the 22d of August. The editor of the NEWS, though in the city at the time, was unable to respond to their invitation to be present, but he has been favored by a lady, whose indefatigable exertions in the matter entitle her to the thanks of all, with the following copy of the result of that meeting.

"In response to the suggestion made for a family gathering of the sons of Rhode Island during the approaching summer, we would be glad to mingle our sympathies with the movement. The 22d day of August seems to be acceptable to most of us here, and no doubt would be to the residents of other cities. Signed by permission:

Henry Ruggles,	William Mumford,
John G. Williams,	Oliver Mumford,
Philip W. Engs,	Thomas T. Sheffield,
George E. Coe,	William B. Bailey,
Charles H. Russell,	William Childs,
Peleg Hall,	Staunton Beebe,
William G. Reed,	John Caswell,
Christopher Townsend,	Benjamin Newton,
Stephen Cahoone,	Cornelius Wilbour,
John Cornell,	John S. Carr,
Joseph Patten,	Thomas Vernon,
Philander Shaw,	S. Ludlow Dunnuat,
Peter Mumford,	H. Audley Clark,
Benjamin Mumford,	John Stevens, Jr.,
Walter Nichols,	T. R. Gibbs,
Alfred G. Peckham,	F. M. Breese,
Francis B. Cole,	Wm. B. Goodwin,
Thomas P. Nichols,	R. W. Swan.

It is time that some preparation were made on the part of our stay-at-homes to welcome their returning friends. A reception not over formal and elaborate, but cordial, and in which all could join without jealousies or rivalry, would be eminently appropriate. Why will not our Newport Historical Society assume a task which is so peculiarly within their province?

Twenty thousand people attended the funeral of the Marquis of Waterford.

European Correspondence of the Newport News.

PARIS, April 16th, 1859.

Mes amis sal! We can't escape war, at least, this is the general opinion, and our newspapers attempt now but feebly to enforce the contrary upon the public. With their well known versatility, the Parisians have quickly made up their mind to the worst, and are composing more songs and vaudevilles than ever. Our comic authors, who made their best out of the Crimean war, and put Russians and Cossacks a toutes sauces, will undoubtedly indulge in similar jokes on the Austrians, or as the celebrated gamin de Paris calls them les Autres Chiens (the other dogs.)

It had been rumored that General Lamoriciere, the African hero, had offered his services to Louis Napoleon. However incredible this might appear, the public were reminded that during the first empire, most of the republican generals, who had opposed Napoleon the First, when he became emperor, had successively tendered their services and had been effectually employed by him. The celebrated Marshal Macdonald, among others, had risen to be duke of Tarente, and remained faithful to the last. It is true, that neither Macdonald nor any of the other generals had been treated in the way Lamoriciere was treated by Louis Napoleon, at the time of the coup d'etat. Lamoriciere, together with Cavaignac and Changarnier, was one of the most popular military leaders, and is without any doubt, far superior to Marshal Canrobert and most of the generals of Louis Napoleon. The friends of the brave general were happy to learn from the journal, published in the locality to which he has retired, that no offers had been made by him to the Imperial government.

Some great capitalists are about establishing a newspaper, which is to be a model-journal, every line of it, from the leading articles, to the most insignificant report, to be written by the most eminent writers. It will certainly be most interesting to read the account of a common accident, reported by Guizot, Cousin or Lamartine. The comic writers, whom we mentioned above, will undoubtedly, levy a tax on the new project.

An editor is about advertising the "Memoires of Soulouque," the black Emperor, who is expected at Paris. If the report be true, the imperial fugitive intends to appear before the world white as snow.

The Marquis of Beaumont-Vassy, who having occupied high offices in government, has just disgraced himself in a most swindling concern, although in possession of a very large income, will be made to appear insane, in order to save him from the galnate, and will most probably incur the severity of the laws.

Lastly, and as a corroborating proof of the approaching war, the generals of the military divisions have notified the officers belonging to their respective corps, to present without further delay, their claims to be exempt from entering in campaign. If these do not comply with their orders, their subsequent claims will be disregarded.

I shall continue by every mail to inform you of the state of things in the French Metropolis, and let you know of the chroniques intimes de Patats, that shall come to my knowledge.

GENERAL NEWS.

From Washington.—Washington, Wednesday, May 4.—Nothing is yet known as to the bids for the Pacific mail service, nor will there be any communication on the subject by the Post office Department until the decision is made.

The Postmaster-General who left for New-York yesterday, is expected to return on Friday.

All commissions of Special Agents of the Post-Office Department issued prior to March 14 last and not signed by the present Postmaster-General, have been revoked, and their return to the Department requested.

Pennsylvania Politics.—Altoona Pa., Wednesday, May 4.—The State Central Committee of the State Rights Democracy is in session here (John W. Forney, Chairman) for a full and free interchange of sentiment. There is much enthusiasm and determination to press forward the movement.

Philadelphia, Wednesday, May, 4.—The People's ticket was elected yesterday by an average majority of 2,500 votes. The same party have a majority in both branches of the City Councils.

The National Typographical Convention.—Boston, Wednesday, May, 4.—At the session of the National Typographical Convention this forenoon, Nashville, Tenn., was selected as the place for holding the next annual Convention.

The New-York Printer was recommended as the organ of the craft throughout the Union, and a resolution recommending the subordinate Unions to consider the feasibility of abolishing Sunday labor, was offered by Mr. McCoundrey of Grand Rapids.

Fugitive Slave Case.—Zanesville, Ohio, Tuesday, May 3.—A fugitive slave named Jackson, of Cincinnati, Va., was arrested here last night and taken before Judge Marsh, who this morning decided that the prisoner was illegally held and discharged him. Immediately after his discharge he was rearrested, put in irons, and driven to the depot for the purpose of taking him to Wheeling. A desperate effort was made by the negroes to rescue him, and during the excitement clubs and pistols were freely used, and several persons were badly injured. The attempt at rescue proved unsuccessful. Meanwhile a writ was served on the Marshal, commanding him to bring the prisoner before the Court. This point has not yet been settled. The excitement in regard to the matter still continues very great.

Zanesville, O., Wednesday, May, 4.—Jackson, the fugitive slave, was this morning delivered to his master, to be taken back to Virginia. A large crowd followed the parties to the railroad depot, but there was no attempt at a rescue.

St. Louis, Tuesday, May, 3.—The California Overland Mail arrived here this afternoon bringing San Francisco dates of the 11th April. The news is unimportant. The markets were unchanged. The only additional arrival out from the Atlantic States is that of the ship John Sidney, from New-York. The steamship Forward, from Liverpool, had arrived at San Francisco, with the intention, it was supposed, of being put on the route between San Francisco and Vancouver's Island.

This mail brings us advices of another terrible conflict on the Colorado, between the Indians and a party of forty men under Mr. Bishop, who were on the way to join Lieut, Beales, surveying expedition. This party, which left Fort Tejon some time previously, were proceeding, as they supposed, in perfect security, having distributed considerabls presents to the Indians along the route, and received their permission to pass through their country. But on arriving at the crossing of the Colorado, they were on the 20th of March attacked by a party of some six or seven hundred Indians, of the Mojave, Yuma and Pap Ute Indians. A desperate fight ensued, which lasted for three hours, during which time a large number of the Indians were killed. Bishop retreated toward Fort Tejon, and sent thither to Col. Hoffman for assistance. The Colonel was expected to reach the Mojave village about April 16, when he would make an attack upon them for the purpose of chastising them.

Private dispatches state that the ship Manitou, which has been reported burnt at sea, had arrived at San Francisco. The name was doubtless confounded with that of the British ship Merco, whose burning has been reported.

Pirates Indicted.—On Friday last the United States Court, in session at Savannah, Ga., found true bills against Nelson C. Trowbridge, John Dubignon and Henry Dubignon, jr., for "holding African slaves"—those of the Wanderer, we suppose. Presentments were made against Thomas Burke and John S. Montmolin, but no bills found.

From Havana.—Havana correspondents, writing as late as the 25th ult., state that there was no chance of any revolutionary movement taking place on the island. The creoles could not meet in any number or communicate with American fillibusters without the knowledge of the police. It is said that the fillibuster leaders who visit the harbor of Havana on board the United States mail steamships, will find no protection from our flag if proved to be engaged in circulating incendiary printed matter, of which they are suspected at present.

☞The letter from Paris, published in another column, gives very interesting items of the latest news upon the great topics of the day. We hope for future letters from the same esteemed correspondent, to whom we and our readers are under obligations for this.

The cause of Social Reform has been blighted by the infernal mildew of "Free Love." When the mind had, through patient efforts and heavy sacrifices, been slowly prepared for experiments which should test fairly and fully the practicability of Industrial and Household Association, this unclean spirit of Free Love was evoked by the enemies of the cause; and, in spite of the disclaimer and protests of the Associationists, it had power to scatter and destroy them. Since then, it has gone up and down the earth, seeking whom it might devour, and intruding its revolting visage wherever it was especially unwelcome. Its last effort was to freeze itself on to the Spiritualists, in which it has been partially successful. It is none of my business; but I warn them that it will make a finish of them if it be not summarily and emphatically ejected from their premises —Horace Greeley

GUDD FOR SOMEHTING.—Enter Bridget, with the mistress's favorite poodle wringing wet. "How is this, Bridget? How came Fido to get so very wet?" "An' faith, mem, an' it was little Tommy that had the tiny baste lashed to the end of a powl, and was washing the winders wi' him."

The Mobile Tribune is informed by a gentleman from Pensacola, that the master of the alleged Slave bark E. H Rawlings, H. H. Haden, has given himself up to the authorities of that city.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE FISHERY.—The war upon the humpbacks is being prosecuted with unabated vigor all along our coast, and the fishermen are reaping a rich harvest of oil, if not of money. Tons of oil are being packed in ice and shipped to New York and Philadelphia, where they find a ready market. The kind exported is principally porgies, or scup, as they are called here. We understand that Capt. William Young, one of the "Point" fishermen, drew, in his boat, Wednesday, 1500 weight of codfish, with hook and line, near Beaver Tail. Halibut are also being caught in large numbers off Point Judith. We saw one last evening, at Albro & Brownell's market, 21 Market Square, caught yesterday, weighing over 200 pounds. These latter fish are retailing in our markets at 6 cents per lb.

"THERE SHE BLOWS!"—Mr. John B. Swan, fisherman, informs us that he passed a fin-back whale about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, near Castle Hill. His attention was first attracted to the monster by hearing it "blow." Mr. Swan thinks the fish would measure about 80 feet in length. We understand a party of fishermen at the "Point" were busy yesterday afternoon in getting together whaling gear, and if the monster is found in these precincts to-day, he, or she, as the case may be, will be likely to meet with a warm reception.

FARE REDUCED.—By reference to the advertisement in another column, it will be seen, that on and after Monday next, the fare between this city and Providence, by steamer, will be reduced to the usual Summer standard of 50 cents each way. This will be good news, particularly to persons with short purses.

BARQUE MARTHA ANNA.—This vessel, which arrived at this port yesterday from Cardenas, with a full cargo of molasses, will, we understand, be discharged with all dispatch, and sail again for Cardenas Monday or Tuesday next.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—We learn from Alfred Smith, Esq., that Mr. S. Abbot Lawrence, of Boston, has purchased Wm. H. Kay's house, near Touro Park. The price paid was $20,000.

[From the N. Y. Evening Post.]

THE UNDER DOG IN THE FIGHT,

BY DAVID BARKER.

I know that the world, that the great, big world,
From the peasant up to the king,
Has a different tale from the tale I tell,
And a different song to sing.

But for me—and I care not a single fig
If they say I am wrong or am right—
I shall always go for the weaker dog,
For the under dog in the fight.

I know that the world, that the great, big world
Will never a moment stop,
To see which dog may be in the fault,
But will shout for the dog on top.

But for me, I never shall pause to ask
Which dog may be in the right,
For my heart will beat, while it beats at all,
For the under dog in the fight.

Perchance what I've said I had better not said,
Or 'twere better I had said it incog,
But with heart and with glass filled chock to the brim,
Here's a health to the bottom dog.

To Married Ladies.

☞ DR. MATTISON'S INDIAN EMMENAGOGUE is a new and elegant medicine designed expressly for females. It is prepared from an Indian plant which has been used by the natives for the same purpose from time immemorial, and is now for the first time offered to the public. The name and virtues of this wondrous plant was obtained from Mosanondoh, an Oneida Chief who lived near Syracuse, New York, to a very great age. It is neatly put up in two ounce bottles with full directions for using, and is warranted to cure any case of obstruction of the Monthly Sickness—often in 24 hours, and that too after other remedies have been tried in vain. This may seem incredible, but if it fail in any case the price will be refunded. It will also prevent obstructions from any cause whatever, if taken for a day or too before the monthly period, and is therefore of the greatest value to married ladies wishing to avoid the accidents to which they are liable. It is also the most valuable Female Restorative ever discovered for pale and delicate females with deranged menstruation, as it speedily restores and regulates that function, thereby imparting the glow of health to the cheeks, and strength and vigor to the whole system. Purely vegetable, containing nothing injurious to health, and may be taken with perfect safety, at all times and under all circumstances Ladies, therefore, in want of something that is sure, had better send for the Indian Emmenagogue, instead of wasting time and money in trying other things which at best are very uncertain, and therefore never warranted as is this Great Remedy Sent by express to all parts of the country. Sold only at DR. MATTISON'S REMEDIAL INSTITUTE, No. 23 Union Street, Providence, R. I. Orders promptly attended to. See advertisement in this paper. *n18—d&w ly

TO THE
NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, May 5. (Herald's Washington Correspondence.) Col. Johnston, of the army, who went to Mexico as special bearer of dispatches, has arrived here with dispatches from Minister McLane. They confirm the news already received. Mr. McLane writes encouragingly, and expresses undoubted confidence in the ultimate success of the Juarez government, notwithstanding the efforts of the British and French Ministers to throw obstacles in its way. Our government do not believe that the British Minister is acting under the advice of England in the course he has seen fit to pursue, and they have the best assurance that England, when she learns that the United States has recognized the Juarez government, will advise their Minister to do the same thing. In the meantime, our government will take immediate steps to strengthen the hands of our Minister, and rebuke the unwarrantable interference of the English and French Ministers, and also dispatch a number of vessels to the Gulf, to protect, as far as possible, the lives and property of American citizens.

Medicines.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION,
PHILADELPHIA.
A Benevolent Institution, established by special endowment for the relief of the sick and distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic diseases.
THE Howard Association, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by sexual diseases, and the deception practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, rely upon the merits of their resulting Su[illegible] Charitable Act worthy of their [illegible] reputation of success in all their forms and give Medical Advice Gratis, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, occupation, habits, &c. [illegible] and [illegible] exempt paying for Patent Medicines Free of Charge. This enables them that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modes of treatment.
The Directors of the Association, in their annual report upon the treatment of sexual diseases, for the year ending July 1st, 1858, expresses the high [illegible] which has attended their [illegible] consulting surgeon in the cure of Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, the vices of Onanism, Self-Abuse, and order a continuance of the same plan for the ensuing year.
The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort, have proved great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, who they have striven to devote themselves, with renewed zeal to this very important but much despised cause.
An admirable Report on Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, the vice of Onanism, Masturbation or Self-Abuse, and other Diseases of the Sexual Organs, by the consulting Surgeon, which will be sent by mail, (in a sealed envelope,) free of charge, on the receipt of two stamps for postage.
Address, for Report or treatment, Dr. George R. Calhoun, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. By order of the Directors.
EZRA D. HAZARD WELL, President.
GEO. FAIRCHILD, Secretary. 2S

A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONA'S Golden Periodical Pills for Females. Perfectly harmless, yet wonderfully and powerfully effectual in correcting regulating, and removing all obstruction from whatever cause.
All medical men know, as well as many others that no female can enjoy good health, unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health begins immediately to decline, and the want of such a remedy [illegible] soon the cause of so many consumptions [illegible] young females. Headache, Pain in the Side, Palpitation of the Heart, Loathing of Food, and Disturbed Sleep, do most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all those evils; and may always be used successfully as a preventive.—Price $1 per box. For sale at 132 Thames street, corner Churchest reet, and at 12 Washington Square, opposite State House. Orders for the trade so addressed will be supplied at lowest manufacturer's prices. Ladies by enclosing $1 to DUPONA & CO., Box 891, Newport Post Office, can have the Pills sent confidentially by mail to any part of the city or country a26—
